

NORTHEAST YOUTH ORCHESTRA CAMP

sponsored by the Greater Twin Cities Youth Symphonies in partnership with

Mahtomedi Community Education and North St. Paul-Maplewood-Oakdale Community Education, White Bear Lake Community Services, and White Bear Area YMCA

What is it?

The program offers elementary-level string students the chance to play in a string orchestra during a new five-day camp. Students will benefit from rehearsals, sectionals with professional coaches, and music fundamentals (movement, rhythm, solfège) in a fun and social environment.

How does it work?

- All students rehearse daily with GTCYS conductor Mary Sorlie and professional coaches
- The camp helps students grow and have fun both musically and socially
- The program ends with a free concert for friends and family
- All participants receive a T-shirt

Who's in it?

- Any violin, viola, cello or bass player, age 9 - 14 with approximately two to four years playing experience
- Sign up with a friend for twice the fun!

Schedule

Monday - Friday, June 21 - 25, 2010
 8:00am - Noon daily
 12:30pm concert on Friday, June 25

Cooperation between community leaders, music educators and parents has led to the creation of the Northeast Youth Orchestra Camp, an exciting new collaboration between the Greater Twin Cities Youth Symphonies (GTCYS), Mahtomedi Community Education and North St. Paul-Maplewood-Oakdale Community Education, White Bear Lake Community Services, and White Bear Area YMCA. GTCYS is spearheading artistic and administrative aspects of the program and core partners provide essential support, including rehearsal space and promotion to local constituents.

Orchestra programs like GTCYS bring the benefits of music instruction, practice and performance to more young people, empowering them to achieve academically, socially, and personally. Students hone their musical talents and develop lifelong values such as excellence, teamwork, discipline, and community engagement. For more information, call GTCYS at 612-870-7611 or visit www.gtcys.org.
