How to Use this Guide

About

The 2nd edition of Stand-Out Solos: GTCYS Audition Repertoire Guide is a list of audition solos sorted by instrument and orchestra level, curated by professional teachers and musicians. The solo pieces in this guide were selected to be suitable for musicians auditioning for GTCYS at any given level. You might choose a piece from this guide, get an idea from it, or just play something else! So long as your solo fits within the GTCYS Audition Requirements, you should go for it!

Disclaimers:

- Musicians applying to be in GTCYS aren't required to play a piece listed in this guide for their auditions.
- Choosing a piece from this guide doesn't guarantee or limit placement to that piece's respective recommended orchestra level.
- This resource isn't comprehensive; you may notice there are, occasionally, not many listed options for an instrument at a given level. We're working to improve this guide! We appreciate your patience and ask you to revisit this resource in the future for more updated repertoire.

Navigation

To get around, use the Table of Contents, click on your instrument, and browse your instrument's section! The guide includes information about the title of the piece and the composer. When applicable, details about a piece's recommended edition or publisher are also included.

The lists are sorted by ascending orchestra level (i.e., Philharmonia, Sinfonia, Concertino, etc.), then alphabetically by the composer's name, then alphabetically by the piece's title.

Questions

If you have any questions about this guide, please reach out to the Music Librarian & Artistic Coordinator, Ben Van Wienen, at ben@gtcys.org.
